

PERMISSION GRANTED FOR NEW TWICKENHAM STATION

Solum Regeneration, a joint venture between Network Rail and Kier Property, has been granted planning permission by Richmond Council to redevelop Twickenham Station.

Solum will provide a new station for the town as well as new shopping facilities and homes. It will also create a public plaza in the station area, better connections and links to other transport modes, and a new riverside walk from the station to Moor Mead and St Margarets.

While many local residents welcomed the plans, a significant number of local people expressed concerns about the scheme, particularly the height of the proposed buildings. After public consultation and discussions with Richmond Council, Solum agreed to scale down the scheme.

The tallest part was reduced by two storeys and is lower than its neighbours, Travelodge and Regal House and with height reductions in other areas. The number of homes in the development was also reduced from 165 flats to 115 to enable the height reduction.

The RFU supported the Solum plans and welcome Solum's commitment to delivering the new station in time for the 2015 Rugby World Cup.

TWICKENHAM STATION OUT WITH THE OLD –

IN WITH THE NEW

The RFU has a very keen interest in the new station development. It will provide significant improvements for event days at the stadium and benefit station users.

We are proud to be part of the Twickenham community. Our contribution to Twickenham is very important to us and is recognised and valued. We are a major local employer and contribute significantly to the local economy.

We are also proud to be hosting the Rugby World Cup in 2015, the world's third largest sporting event, which will see some 650,000 people visit Twickenham over six weeks. The local and national economies will benefit significantly with approximately £2.2 billion being generated by the tournament.

Twickenham Stadium is one of Britain's premier sporting venues with year round events and functions, a Marriott hotel and leisure facilities, attracting well over one million people every year. Of these visitors, approximately 40% use Twickenham station, which we continue to promote as part of our Green Travel Plan commitment.

In the lead up to 2015, we aim to increase the number of people coming to Twickenham by rail. To achieve this, there will be longer platforms with increased capacity and significant improvements to facilities for all station users. The new station will provide a safe, efficient and welcoming gateway to Twickenham.

Twickenham deserves a new station that meets the demands of Rugby World Cup 2015 and will provide a legacy for local people and the area.

We have been concerned for some time that Twickenham station, the primary transport hub for the stadium, struggles to cope with the demands upon it when major events take place.

The RFU engaged widely on the Solum scheme which was the only viable option that would provide much needed investment in Twickenham station and could be completed by 2015.

If you do not receive it regularly, copies are available from Rugby House, the RFU Rugby Stores and Twickenham and Whitton libraries. Online at www.rfu.com/News/Newsletters

RFU SUPPORTS RETURN OF TWICKENHAM'S POOL SITE FOR COMMUNITY USE

Community led plans to create a new open public space, including a public square and gardens, on the site of the long-derelict swimming pool at Twickenham Riverside were recently unveiled by Richmond Council.

The ideas have been brought together following Richmond Council's extensive consultation with local people and businesses through the Barefoot consultation, the Twickenham Conference at the RFU and the All in One process.

The project will be known as 'The Diamond Jubilee Gardens'. It represents the biggest step towards the council's commitment to making the town's riverside available for everyone to use and enjoy after over three decades of indecision and lost opportunities.

Revealing the plan, Richmond Council Leader Lord True said:

"We promised to make every possible effort to put this riverside site back into the hands of the people of Twickenham. We have responded to the overwhelming wish of local people to save the old pool site as public open space for all time."

The project draws on proposals from the Twickenham Riverside Terrace Group which received planning permission last February. They are to be congratulated for years of effort and commitment in coming up with a scheme which is the basis for the most long awaited improvement to the area in years. With significant financial support from Richmond Council, the scheme will light the way for the wholesale improvement of the town centre. This is community partnership at its best.

The site will be cleared of 30 years' worth of weeds, building materials and debris, to be landscaped into three sections: A simple grassed area immediately behind the play area and Café Sunshine, a park space in front of the old diving board, which will be kept as a memorial to the long struggle to reopen the site and, the old changing rooms will be paved to become a public square. Pride of place will go to a new feature commemorating the jubilee.

The RFU has previously supported Richmond Council's earlier regeneration of part of the Twickenham pool site, with a contribution of £10,000 to support the Jubilee Gardens children's playground in 2005. The RFU is delighted once again to contribute to such a worthwhile community project.

"It is very fitting that the small Jubilee Gardens created to mark Her Majesty's 50th year, should now reach its full beautiful potential in perfect time for our monarch's Diamond Jubilee."
*Richmond Council Leader
Lord True*

Plans for the improvements and further information will be available from www.twickenhamriverside.org, Richmond Council and future editions of Rugby Post.

The regatta competitors were boys and girls ages 13-16 from local schools. The main event on Sunday 18th was the stand up paddleboard trials and races. The 350m regatta course started opposite the White Swan to the site of the original Charlie Shore boathouse, below the Eel Pie Island footbridge.

RFU SUPPORTS REMEMBER RADNOR CAMPAIGN TO REPAIR WAR MEMORIAL

The RFU has picked the Richmond & Twickenham Times Remember Radnor campaign to benefit from their annual Christmas tree sales to support local good causes.

A percentage of every tree sold by supplier Manorxmastrees will go towards restoring the memorial to its former glory.

The war memorial in Radnor Gardens was targeted by vandals on October 20 when a large brass plaque depicting a World War One Naval scene was stolen, leaving the memorial bereft for the Remembrance Sunday wreath laying.

The campaign to repair the memorial is led by the borough's mayor, Councillor Clare Head, who is also Chairman of the friends of Radnor Gardens.

Cllr Head said: "Stealing from a war memorial is a despicable thing to do, especially so close to Remembrance Sunday. We were shocked that anyone would denigrate the memory of those who have died to make this the free country it is today.

If you would like to donate to the campaign, please send a cheque to Remember Radnor Campaign c/o RTT, Allied House, 29-39 London Road TW1 3SZ.

THE RUGBY FOOTBALL UNION WITHIN THE LOCAL COMMUNITY

The Rugby Football Union (RFU) knows the importance of maintaining a good relationship with its local community.

Over the past 10 years, around 200 local partnerships have been sponsored or received financial support from the RFU. This has resulted in over £1.1 million being contributed to local schools, charities, community groups and local events.

In order to maintain the best possible relations a survey was carried out involving 1,000 local residents with the use of an email questionnaire.

After the survey was completed, it was obvious that results reflected a good relationship between the local community and the RFU. Some 240 residents responded. Two respondents won a pair of tickets to an RBS 6 Nations match of their choice.

The aims of the survey were:

- Identify how often residents receive information on Twickenham Stadium and the RFU, and how they would prefer to receive information.
- Identify whether or not residents have been successful in RFU ticket ballots for England matches and concerts.
- See what proportions of respondents have attended RFU sponsored community events.
- Identify whether or not residents believe crowd behaviour on match days is a problem.
- Identify how much residents believe the RFU contributes each year towards local community groups, charities, schools and local community events.

The main findings of the survey were:

- 97% of participants were either reasonably well informed, or well informed on Twickenham Stadium events.
- 92% of participants had attended either a concert or a match at Twickenham Stadium.
- 80% of residents who have entered the RFU's local residents' ticket ballots over recent years have been successful.
- 90% of residents said they regularly received the RFU's community newsletter Rugby Post.
- Rugby Post was the preferred method of receiving information from the RFU, followed by email, then the RFU website.
- 83% of residents had attended one or more RFU sponsored community events.
- 77% of residents believe match day crowd behaviour to be either no problem, or strongly no problem. 21% said it was a minor problem.
- 38% of residents believe the RFU contribute over £250,000, and 42% over £100,000 each year towards local community groups, charities, schools and community events.

To conclude, approaches from the RFU in creating a good relationship with the local community are working. After comparing the results with a previous survey, it also shows the relationship to have strengthened. This relationship will have to be maintained in order to add to the success of the organisation, as well as the success of hosting the 2015 Rugby World Cup.

The survey was compiled by Archie Collyer-Bristow, a third year student from Edinburgh University studying Sport and Recreation Management. He was undertaking a 10-week internship with the RFU's Communications Department.

HOMELINK BALL 2011 – ANOTHER GREAT SUCCESS

Distinguished guests: Vince Cable MP for Twickenham with Cllr David Marlow and Cllr Alan Butler from Richmond Council

The RFU has supported Homelink for over 10 years and we were delighted to support their fundraising ball at the stadium's Live Room. The event raised some £15,000 for the Whitton based charity.

Homelink is a nurse-led day respite centre supporting carers of any age who give help and care to a partner, relative, friend or neighbour who cannot manage without their help. This could be because of age, disability, physical and/or mental illness.

The centre is for people who have someone that they are caring for in the Whitton, Hounslow Borders, Twickenham, Hampton and Teddington areas.
